

Finding books and ebooks in iDiscover

1. You can choose to search within iDiscover using one of the three options by selecting a radio button at the top of the screen:

- Cambridge Libraries Collections: books (printed and electronic), other physical library content and Apollo, the Cambridge institutional repository.
- Articles and online resources: Articles online (both in peer-reviewed journals and from other sources), databases, electronic journals and other online content.
- Everything: All of the resources covered by the Cambridge Libraries Collections and Articles and online resources searches

2. Finding books

- You can search for books and ebooks using the title, author, ISBN or a keyword.
- Enter your search term in the simple search box. For example, Good Research Guide:

- To further refine your search to ebooks or print books, select the 'Books' (for printed books) or 'eBooks' (electronic books) option from the dropdown to the left of the search box:

Tips:

- Use “...” around your search terms to focus the search to the exact title. This will bring up more relevant results.
- Click on the library drop down to search from a specific library.

- Book records will show the word ‘BOOK’ in the results list and will have a book cover image or a icon: Ebooks will show the word ‘BOOK’ in the results list and will display the following icons; there may also be a book cover image.

- Click on a book title to view more details and options to obtain/access the book content.
- You can narrow your search to view only books (both print and electronic) in the results by clicking on the ‘books’ option in the ‘Resource Type’ filter:

Note: ebooks that have been received under Electronic Legal Deposit can only be accessed on the dedicated legal deposit terminals located in the University and Affiliate Libraries (see <http://www.lib.cam.ac.uk/collections/departments/legal-deposit/access-electronic-legal-deposit>)

If access to any resources is restricted (e.g. Electronic legal deposit items) this will be shown beneath the item entry when you hover your cursor over the little grey box; you will see the text 'Online access restricted to designated PCs in the main UL + affiliate libraries':

Tip: It is a good idea to log in to iDiscover before you start searching for ebooks. Once you are logged in, you will be able to link to the full-text of ebook collections within iDiscover, both on and off-campus.

Note: there are implications for retrieving electronic legal deposit ebooks when using the different filtering options; if you filter your search by eBooks from the drop-down list in the search box you won't retrieve electronic legal deposit ebooks. If you filter your search results using Full Text Online and Books from the side facets, you will retrieve electronic legal deposit ebooks.

5. More information and support for book and ebook searching

There is an ebooks@cambridge LibGuide available from <http://libguides.cam.ac.uk/ebookscam>.

The LibGuide lists all our ebooks suppliers, and provides useful advice on how to find and access our ebooks, including some troubleshooting FAQs. For announcements of new ebooks collections and services please follow the ebooks@cambridge blog (<https://ebookscambridge.wordpress.com/>):

The screenshot shows the 'ebooks@cambridge: Find ebooks' page. At the top, there is a search bar with the text 'Search this Guide' and a 'Search' button. Below the search bar, there are navigation tabs: 'Find ebooks', 'Access ebooks', 'Use ebooks', 'Cite ebooks', 'Copyright & licensing', 'Free & open access', and 'FAQs'. The main content area is divided into three columns. The left column, titled 'Find an ebook', contains a search box for 'iDiscover' and a list of publishers whose titles are not yet shown in iDiscover: 'apabi Digital Library', 'Early English Books Online', and 'Eighteenth Century Collections Online'. The middle column, titled 'ebook platforms', lists various publishers and collections under the letters 'A' and 'B'. The right column, titled 'Contact us', features the 'ebooks@CAMBRIDGE' logo, the email address 'ebooks@cambridge service', an 'Email Me' button, contact information (blog, +44 (0)1223 333102), and social media links for Facebook and Twitter. At the bottom of the right column, there is a 'New this month' section with a book cover for 'BEYOND' by Eugenia Cheng.
