Notes

- Sets of images as arranged by CC have been kept together and put in order. Where the same image appears in more than one set, they've been left there for the sake of both sets' completeness. Therefore some images appear in more than one box etc.
- The names of architects and artists are capitalised, for the purpose of easy reference. Not all other people's names are. Names that are used as the title of a building by CC or myself are not capitalised, except for the RIABUSHINSKII house, because there is so much material on it.
- The box 'Misc, well labelled' contains photographs etc, which have been labelled by either CC or me. They are in this box simply because they had no immediately obvious 'home', but are not mysteries! Likewise many of the 'mystery' slides in the small black box are labelled but must for example have a category created for them. Other 'Misc.' boxes' contents pose more of a problem.
- Any 'see also' notes are not exhaustive.
- References to 'CC's Russian Avant-Garde' refer to her book with the subtitle 'Theories of art, architecture and the city', a copy of which is in the MML library. A very large number of the images in the collection appear in this book, not just the ones I've marked as such.
- Images in boxes are black and white and on glossy paper if not otherwise stated.
